Birmingham PACES Course for MRCP Part 2

This course was designed to give delegate a head start on revision, with a focus on perfecting examination technique as well as presentation and communication skills. The emphasis during the course was to equip delegates with the correct method and strategy to pass the exam through observation of ones own technique and to amend any faults to ensure a successful exam.

Day one of the course focuses on the clinical examination stations (cardiovascular, respiratory, abdominal, and neurological systems) as well as the new Station 5. After brief lectures covering this new Station and general strategies to pass the exam, delegates are rotated through clinical stations in small groups to facilitate individualised feedback.

Day two of the course focused on History and Communication skills (Stations two and four). With brief lectures given on general aspects of history taking and communication scenarios, after which rotation through the different stations in small groups helps to consolidate a successful technique and approach.

Individual Comments

Well run course. Good mix of exam practice & chance to see a variety of signs. Faculty all knowledgeable with most having relatively recent experience of sitting PACES which I felt was of benefit.

Mr Fraser Hendry
Forth Valley Royal Hospital, UK

Useful course. Good teaching.

Ms Anju Anand
Sree Krishna Hospital, Kerala, India

Good to actually get hands on experience with examining/ taking history from patients Sometimes felt like people at station not critiquing enough. Better to be critical here and learn than in the exam The group I was put in were people who had not booked the exam or started revising so I felt I couldn't learn much from other members of the group and would prefer a group of all local trainees if possible.

Ms Javeria Peracha
Queen Elizabeth Medical Centre, Birmingham, UK

I am planning to do PACES in Sept'14 and would like to redo this course before my exam.

Ms Ireen Hamid
Hillingdon Hospital, Uxbridge, UK

Good.

Mr Sameer Bahal
Good Hope District General Hospital, Sutton Coldfield, UK

Excellent.

Mr Jake Mann
St James's University Hospital, Leeds, UK

A second neurology station would help. Everyone worst station. Better feedback and teaching on neurology. Perhaps enlist the services of a neurologist.

Mr Furqan Amjad
Queen Elizabeth Birmingham Hospital, UK

Good selection of cases and well organized, ideally will be great to give more feedback after exams to assess more.

Ms Umaira Aziz
New Cross Hospital, Wolverhampton, UK

Very good.

Mr Muhammad Abdul Rauf
DHQ Hospital, Pakistan

Individual Comments

Extremely useful course with plenty of chance to practice. Excellent range of patients for examination. Thank you.

Ms Katrina Wardrope
Western General Hospital, Edinburgh, UK

Examiners on cardiovascular, respiratory and Station5 were particularly helpful.

Ms Kanchana De Abrew
Queen Elizabeth Medical Centre, Birmingham, UK

Overall it is a good course for the money spent.

Mr Mohamed Zacky Mohamed Haniffa
Royal Shrewsbury Hospital, Shrewsbury, UK

Good exposure to exam format.

Mr Ahmad Halimi
Queen Elizabeth Medical Centre, Birmingham, UK
