

5th National Undergraduate Paediatric Conference 2018

Feedback - November 2018

5th National Undergraduate Paediatric Conference

Following the success of its last national conference Glasgow University Paediatrics Society was pleased to announce its 5th National Undergraduate Paediatrics Conference.

This year the conference focused on a range of paediatric specialities, offering students a diverse and varied view of paediatrics. There were also a number of talks on 'Current Issues in Paediatrics'. The day took the form of a series of lectures from leading paediatric specialists and an afternoon of workshop sessions, including practical skills sessions and a paediatric careers and CV workshop.

With paediatric specialist training posts commonly over-subscribed, evidence of a commitment to paediatric medicine from an early career stage is becoming more important. This conference provided the perfect opportunity to gain exposure to paediatrics and to present research at a national level. In addition, there were a number of poster presentations to showcase medical student research in the field of paediatrics.

The conference was open to all medical students across the UK, with the overall aim to provide an insight into the field of Paediatrics.

As a 2nd year student it was very useful in showing clinical side to medicine and experience into paediatrics that I had not yet had. All the speakers were great and they were very enthusiastic which was inspiring. Especially loved the first two lectures and the experiences they talked about having abroad which is what I want to do. The workshops were also a nice change from the lectures and it was good things to learn and they were very enjoyable.

I thought this was a well organised conference with good content, I was particularly impressed with the lecture about radiological findings and found the career pathway very helpful. I felt all my questions were answered and I came away with a clearer understanding of the career pathway for paed.
