Clinical Anatomy and Operative Procedures as Applied to Head, Neck and Limbs

Taught by surgeons, this highly interactive event featured focus-group workshops and individual demonstrations complemented by an overview of essential theoretical information on surgical anatomy. Delegates were taught the anatomy encountered in common procedures, the placement of incisions and the essential principles of surgery.

The sessions also included the anatomical basis in the assessment and management of patients that had been involved in a variety of major and minor trauma situations. Some examples of the topics covered include: Head and facial injuries, stab / gunshot wounds to the neck, central line insertion, emergency cricothyroidotomy, burns, nerve injuries (including brachial plexus), tendon injuries, fractures of long bones and compartment syndrome.

The workshops used imaginative artwork in identifying important surface anatomy landmarks and the underlying structures on live human models

Operative anatomy pertinent to the following specialties were covered: :

- Ear, Nose and Throat Surgery
- Head and Neck Surgery
- Maxillofacial Surgery
- Trauma and Orthopaedics
- Plastic Surgery
- Hand Surgery
