

Stoke Mandeville Hospital

Getting to

Stoke Mandeville Hospital, Mandeville Road
Aylesbury, HP21 8 AL

By car

From the A41 London to Bicester Road

Go through the village of Aston Clinton, turn left at the mini roundabout onto the B4544, go through the village of Weston Turville and turn right at the mini roundabout onto the A413 (Wendover Road). Take the first left into the A4010 (Station Road), follow the road over the railway bridge and on up to the mini roundabout, take the second exit into Lower Road, the entrances to the hospital are three-quarters of a mile along the right hand side.

From the A413 Wendover to Aylesbury Road

From the A413 (Wendover Road), turn left into the A410 (Station Road), follow the road over the railway bridge and on up to the mini roundabout, take the second turning at the roundabout onto lower road, the entrances to the hospital are three-quarters of a mile along the road on the right hand side just after the 30 mile per hour sign.

From the M40

Follow the signs for Thame, take the A418 Aylesbury Road into Aylesbury to the roundabout junction of the A41 (Gatehouse Road/Friarage Road) turn right at the roundabout into Friarage Road direction south east follow the road to the 3rd roundabout, turn right into Walton Street, after 600 yards turn right at the traffic lights onto the B4443 (Stoke Mandeville Road) go over the railway bridge and follow road round to the left, after a little over a mile the hospital entrances are to your left.

By bus

Stoke Mandeville Hospital is served by the following bus services. Details of local bus services can be found on the Arriva website www.arrivabus.co.uk/buckshealthcare with details of buses to Stoke Mandeville Hospital.

By train

The nearest train station to Stoke Mandeville hospital is Aylesbury station. Details of trains to Aylesbury station can be accessed via the Chiltern Railways website.